Bloody Battles in Japan Over U.S.-Jap Pact

Editor Lashes Treasury as Press Censor

By JOHN RODERICK
TOKYO (AP) — Bloody battles erupted between rock-throwing radical students and charging club-wielding police today as Japanese leftists launched a new wave of demonstrations against the U.S.-Japanese security pact and President Eisenhower's visit to Japan.

Students once broke into the grounds of Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi's official residence. They were forced out, then charged three times by several hundred blue-uniformed, helmeted police.

Heads were bloodied and college men and coeds knocked to the street in a free-for-all that put the students in retreat.

Shots were fired and no one appeared seriously hurt.

The free-for-all climaxed a 3½-hour demonstration by some 5,000 students around the heavily guarded Parliament building.

The students carried placards and chanted slogans denouncing the Prime Minister, Eisenhower scheduled June 19-22 visit and the partially ratified treaty authorizing U. S. bases in Japan for at least another 10 years.

"I don't like Ike" said one sign. Others read "Kishi, quit," "Death by hanging for Kishi," "Ike don't come," and "Parliament resign."

The student demonstration was the curtain-raiser for a weekend of turmoil planned by Japan's left wing.

Transport unions prepare a giant tie-up of public transportation Saturday. Soho, the leftist labor federation, ordered member unions to stop train, bus and taxi service for an hour during the morning rush.

The demonstrators, with vociferous backing from Chinese Communist official broadcasts, are trying to pressure Kishi into dissolving Parliament before ratification of the treaty becomes final June 18, and to postpone Eisenhower's visit.

HOT SPRINGS, ARK. — Alex. H. Washburn, editor and publisher of the Hope Star, published in a speech before the summer convention of the Arkansas Press Association at the Arlington Hotel this afternoon that the federal government is permitting the use of the Treasury's tax regulations as a means of censoring what a newspaper editor may write or do.

Washburn said: "If I told you I am more afraid of our own people and politicians than I am of the Russian Khrushchev it would be because a wise man chooses to fight the danger nearest home."

We have been brought up to believe our United States is a representative democracy in which the rights of free speech, free press, and peaceable assembly, are guaranteed by the Constitution — and that a man's home is his castle, and can't be entered and searched except by authority of a warrant.

But our liberty is eroding away, and the ancient faith of our fathers vanishing.

The Supreme Court of the United States violated the sanctity of a man's home when, in the recent case of Maryland's so-called "cockroach law," it upheld the right of sanitation officers to enter private property without first obtaining a search warrant.

Equally significant and sinister is the story I am about to tell you, of my own experience, on how censorship of newspaper editors has come to the United States. Now it may be that your notion of censorship is as colorful as a Spectacular on television. You think of an Asiatic dictator sending his bodyguard to close down an unfriendly newspaper — or a Latin American general turning his hoodlums loose on the press printing press.

But, you say, nothing so crude could possibly happen in the United States — and of course you are right. We Americans are an enlightened people. And we have enlightened politicians and bureaucrats, too. They wouldn't think of sending the police down to see a free-spoken newspaper editor; they would send the tax collector instead — but making the same threats, and doing the same job.

Editor's Own Story
Here is my own story: One summer day in 1957 a pleasant-faced man walked into my newspaper office and asked for a private interview. He was the district field agent for the Internal Revenue Service. He said he had come to talk to me about my 1955 income tax return.

"Is it about that deduction for $5,000 I spent in circulating the petition for a vote on the law exempting livestock and poultry feed from state sales tax?" I asked. He said "Yes."

"But," I replied, "I attached to that return a CPA audit of the expenditures and a detailed explanation of my long editorial fight against the threat of a higher state sales tax and consequent damage to my city's trade territory and my newspaper in competition with sales-tax-free Texarkana, only 34 miles away."

"Yes, I know," replied the Treasury man. "You hung a red flag on the item and we had to pick up the challenge. You spent that money to influence legislation, which makes the item non-deductible."

"I replied: 'Do you mean that I can't defend my own business, in the newspaper, and with my personal funds?'"

"Oh," he said, "I don't think the tax differential between Texarkana and Hope would hurt you."

There was the clerk speaking out in him, appropriating the power of property's management. If he were the character he claimed to be then I was stupid not to have hired him as general manager and gone fishing. But if I had, there wouldn't have been any newspaper when I got back.

The Treasury man kept searching a black book he had with him — his manual. "There's nothing specific about your case in the book, one way or another," he announced.

"Then forget the book," I told him.

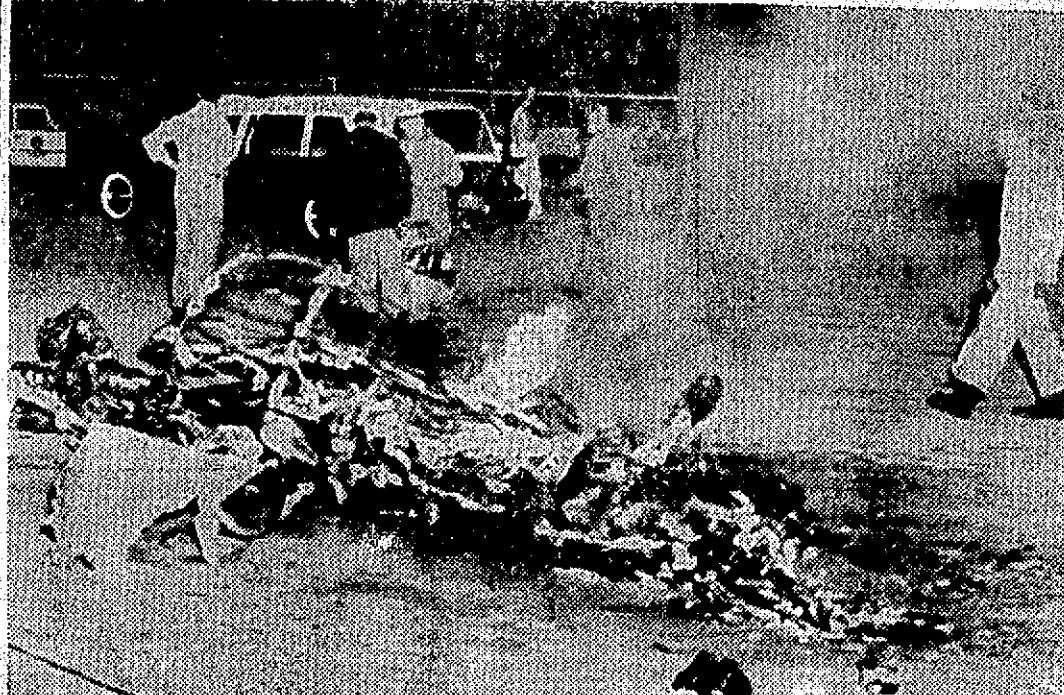

"No," he replied, "that's our Bible — when we leave it we got no place to go. Besides, it would be cheaper for you to settle than fight — you can win."

"I got news for you," I told him. "Fight out of the history book — just what we told the Barbary pirates: 'Millions for defense but not one dime for tribute.'"

And that was the start of my tax fight. (Continued on Page Eight)

City to Install New Lighting Downtown

The downtown section of Hope is due to get a new, modern mercury vapor lighting system. The Water & Light Commission, at its meeting yesterday, gave final approval on the plan to install the new system.

The plan for the lighting arrangement was prepared by the Engineering Department of the Arkansas Power and Light Company and will provide Hope with one of the most attractive downtown lighting jobs in the state.

The Electric Department had received bids on the poles and fixtures ranging from $17,992.00 to $18,552.00. Final award for the fixtures has not been made.

Apparatus in addition to the poles and fixtures and labor installation is estimated to cost $4,000.

The City Manager reported that the work of installing concrete bases for the new light fixtures could begin as soon as the final decision had been made on the purchase of the equipment. Delivery of the lighting fixtures will require approximately eight weeks during which time it is hoped that all the base work can be completed. This would mean that only a short time would be necessary for installing the lighting system after the materials arrive.

In further action at the meeting, the first estimate due the R. D. Cole Mfg. Co. on their contract for constructing the overhead storage tank was submitted. Payment authorized at that time was $67,000 of the contract amounting to $43,474.00.

Only Joking, Says Rep. Oren Harris

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Oren Harris (D-Ark.) says he was only joking when he talked about a probe of the nation's press.

Harris said he jestingly mentioned this kind of proposal when a reporter asked him about alterations on an expense account voucher.

The voucher covered Harris' expenses at a Honolulu hotel in 1957. News stories this week named Harris among congressmen whose expense accounts allegedly showed alterations.

Harris said that after discussing the stories with the reporter, he commented facetiously that he planned to propose a press committee to audit congressional accounts and a congressional committee to investigate the press.

Starving Boy Rescued From Wreckage

FLIN FLON, Man. (AP) — A helicopter Thursday plucked a starving, nearly incoherent little boy from beside the burned wreckage of a plane where he had spent 15 lonely, fear-ridden days in the rugged bush of northwest Manitoba.

Later the helicopter and its rescue crew returned to collect the bodies of the child's father and a friend who died in the crash 300 miles northwest of Winnipeg.

"Gee, I thought you'd never come," said 9-year-old Walter Sedor to his mother at the Flin Flon hospital.

Although suffering from exhaustion and undernourishment, the child was said to be in good condition.

The father, Steve Sedor, 39, a friend, Ken Harrison, 32, and the child were on a 12-mile flight to Tartan Lake for a fishing trip when the plane crashed May 18.

The boy, sitting in the back seat, apparently was thrown through the roof into heavy brush which broke his fall.

The boy told his rescuers he chewed a few roots and leaves and drank rain water. A package of supplies containing enough food for one person for at least 25 days had been thrown clear but the boy didn't touch it — apparently unaware of what it contained.

Since May 18 the weather during the day had been relatively mild, but on several occasions the temperature approached freezing at night. There were several rainy days.

Thursday, Harvey Evans, a pilot for TransAir Ltd., spotted the boy sitting on a rock about three-fourths of a mile from Tartan Lake. Evans, who was returning from a flight north, said if his course had been 100 yards to either side he would not have seen the child.

New Type of Home Built in a Day Here

A new type of home construction was introduced in Hope Wednesday morning by the G & F Construction Company, Incorporated, a local building company formed this year by Vincent W. Foster, W. H. Gunter, Jr., Coy Breeding, Aubrey O'Steen, and Hendrix Spraggins, all local businessmen.

Wednesday morning at 7:30 a large van truck from the National Homes Corporation, Tyler, Texas, delivered at Cherry Street the first home of this kind to be built in Hope, a Galaxy. At 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon the trained building crew, under the supervision of W. H. Gunter, Jr. and Joe Hamilton, National Homes field representative, had erected the exterior walls and roof of this home with doors and windows in place, just in time to protect the home from the downpour of rain at 4:20 p. m. In 7½ hours time from delivery at site this home was practically completed on the exterior.

Mr. Hamilton, National Homes representative complimented the crew for a fine job done in record time.

This home is being constructed for Mr. and Mrs. James L. Neal. Within two weeks time the residence will be ready for the Neals to move in.

Less than a month ago the Neals selected the Galaxy home from the National Homes Designs for Pleasant Living Plans. The G & F Construction Company, Inc. accepted their present home in trade on the new home. With financing by the Hope Federal Savings & Loan Association, the entire transaction will be completed during this month.

The National Homes Corporation materialized from a dream of its President James R. Price of Lafayette, Indiana. Mr. Price believed that better places to live could be produced more economically and quickly by using modern manufacturing techniques. The results are proven by the company using these pace setting production methods being well on its way to house no. 200,000.

Khrushchev Hurls Additional Insults at U.S. President

Demands Bases Overseas Be Abandoned

By PRESTON GROVER

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, renewing his demand for the United States to abandon its overseas military bases, said today that countries playing host to U.S. forces would be the first ones hit if war breaks out.

He made the statement at a Kremlin news conference called to give details of a revised version of his "general and complete" disarmament plan unveiled at the United Nations last year.

Liquidation of U.S. bases abroad has been a major objective of Soviet foreign policy for years.

Khrushchev said his rocket troop commander now has authority to mount a nuclear attack against the bases if new my plane flights over the Soviet Union take off from them.

In addition to reshuffling priorities in his disarmament plan, he included a new provision — destruction of the rockets, submarine.

Band Classes in Summer Start June 6

Enrollment for summer band classes, for those who have been taking band from the fifth grade through the 12th will start Monday, June 6th at 8:20 a. m.

For students who wish to play in the Junior Band next year, 7th and 8th grade students, will have to take summer band and may register at 9 a. m.

Students who have rental instruments and are to exchange for their new instruments will come from 10 through 12 a. m.

All fifth and sixth grade students who are beginning band for their first time will meet at 1 p. m., and receive their instruments, a band instrument, or discuss the band program and how to get started in band with Mr. Bartholomew.

We have found that starting band during the fall and spring semester work a hardship on the students due to the amount of studying a child is required to do. We find that a child starting and taking during the summer can actually progress as much as he normally would during the school year, if you are interested please come by during the day any time during the week of June 6th.

Summer band begins June 6th and ends July 8th, resumes again August 22.

All girls interested in twirling will register Monday, June 6th at 9 a. m. and 1 p. m. There will be a Beginner's Class, Intermediate Class and an Advanced Class. All registrations and activities will be held at the Sr. High School Band Building.

PROPOSES CONGRESSIONAL Expense Accounting—Rep. Omar Burleson (D-Tex.), who heads the Committee of House Administration, has proposed that junketing congressmen be required to account publicly for their government-paid expenses so taxpayers can be sure their money doesn't go for whiskey, nightclubs, and other high living. — NEA Telephoto

He indicated the Soviet Union could have little confidence in Richard M. Nixon as a working partner of the Soviet Union.

The Premier declared the Eisenhower presidency is a dark period in history, with the President lacking in will power.

He pictured Eisenhower — whom he met and praised last fall in the United States — as virtually a stooge for John Foster Dulles at the 1955 summit meeting. The Premier indirectly continued his recent criticism of Vice President Nixon by saying:

"We were not so badly off in Dulles' time because he did so many foolish things it made it easier for us. . . . From that point of view I suppose that (Nixon) is the best choice for us" (for US president). Of course it would be better for us if we had a wise partner, but if not, that is the American peoples' business and they will be the ones to suffer."

Khrushchev made these remarks at a news conference, attended by 400 reporters in the Kremlin. It was called primarily to give the Soviet leader a chance to "outline his new" disarmament program. But he ranged widely in his comments and answers to questions.

He got a laugh with this remark: "When the President is no longer president, the best job we could offer him here would be as head of a children's home. We are sure he would not harm children."

"But to have such a man as the head of a great nation is dangerous," he added when the laughter died down.

"President Eisenhower is, completely lacking in will power," he said, "but that does not excuse him" for not exercising authority over such men as Nixon and Secretary of State Christian A. Herter. The Premier declared those two are leading the United States along a path which could bring a new war.

In the absence of world disarmament, he said, the Soviet Union is ready to retaliate with nuclear weapons against anyone who sends spy planes over the Soviet Union like last month's American U2 reconnaissance plane.

Crime Blamed on Moral Degradation

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Newport attorney Fred Pickens told the 40th annual Arkansas Peace Officers Convention yesterday that moral degradation is the greatest cause of the growing crime rate in the U.S.

He said too many people worry about rights and too few are willing to accept responsibilities. He added that Americans have adopted an attitude of "I'm going to get mine and to hell with every one else."

Visiting Days at Experiment Station Set

Two Visiting Days are scheduled this month at the University of Arkansas' Southwest Branch Experiment Station, reports C. M. Bittle, assistant director in charge.

The General White Visiting Day will be June 23. The Annual Negro Visiting Day will be June 24. Both events will begin at 9:30 a. m. at the Station headquarters located about four miles north-east of Hope off Highway 67.

Upon arrival, please proceed to the lake at Recreation Hall before unloading. Bittle suggests.

Dr. John W. White, University vice-president for agriculture, will give the principal address at 1 p. m. during the White Day on June 23.

Field tours and demonstrations are planned for the White Visiting Day. Five field stops include forestry, tomato production, cotton breeding and production, cucumber breeding and testing, and pastures.

The following Division of Agriculture personnel will explain the work at those stops: Dr. L. O. Warren, Gordon Barnes, Dr. M. J. Goode, Earl Downs, Dr. B. A. Waddle, Gene Woodall, Dr. J. L. Bowers, and Dr. A. E. Spooner.

Between 11 and 1-two demonstrations are scheduled: Wildlife exhibit by Leroy Gray, Extension

Bible Comment

PROPHETS OF TODAY,
By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.

The popular conception of the prophet is one who foretells the future.

It is partially justified by the role of the prophet in ancient Israel. Either by divinely inspired intuition or by a keen appraisal of events, the prophet made his prediction of things to come and sought to arouse the people from impending doom.

But even in Israel the more familiar role of the prophet was as a soothsayer rather than a fore-sayer.

A conspicuous example was the prophet Amos, a clear-visioned farmer who came from the open spaces into the crowded city, laying bare its perversions and corruptions, especially those of religion itself.

The prophet was a social reformer and more. He was not a mere do-gooder. He struck at the very roots of life and thought.

I have been impressed with the men and women who are assuming this prophetic role in life today.

Many of them are distinctly religious, either churchmen or those on the fringes of religious organizations whose interest is in truth and right, in soundness of social thought and well-being.

Among the unconventional, lay prophets of today are some of the outstanding journalists.

We are wont to dwell upon the faults and limitations of journalism. But beyond and beneath all this is a serious, morally dedicated journalism, that to me is in many ways society's greatest asset and hope.

When I can I never fail to see such TV programs as "Face the Nation" and "Meet the Press." I am always struck with the earnest, uncompromising purpose of the members of the panel to get at the facts and the truth.

The same is true of the panel of "Starring the Editors" here in Massachusetts.

National capitals tend to reveal what is best and what is worst in national life.

In my native Canada I think it is probably more true of the provincial capitals than of Ottawa, but in Washington, D.C., I think there is undoubtedly concentrated wildlife conservationist; and landscaping, slides and discussion, by J. K. Ball, Extension horticulturist. Lunch is to be served by the Hempstead County Home Demonstration Council.

The event is expected to break up around 2 p. m.

A field tour and program are also planned for the Negro Visiting Day on June 24. Among those to appear on the program are: Mrs. Hattie Harrison, with the First Electric Cooperative of Jacksonville, Ark.; Raymond Benz, Extension agricultural engineer; Rev. Henry Wilson, AME Church of Gurdon; youth talent; Jereline Bullard, Negro HDA of Jefferson county; T. R. Betton, Negro Agricultural agent of Little Rock; and Dr. E. E. Evans, acting president of A. M. & N. College of Pine Bluff who will give the main address.

THEY'RE NOT AFRAID—Sharon Gerbie, David Wagner and Wayne Downer, left to right, aren't afraid of Rex the dinosaur. After all, they made him. Along with other pupils in the second grade at Indian Hills Elementary School in Euclid, Ohio. Rex's six-foot-six lumber frame is covered with chicken wire and papier mache. His eyes light up, his teeth are paper cones and his toenails are silver foil over wire. Natural history museum authorities were consulted about the color of a dinosaur and Rex now sports a skin of mottled brown and green.

Prescott News

the highest idealism, the most serious purpose in government, along with the worst aspects of politics.

The same contrasts are found, I believe, in personal character and social ideals and ways.

The fact that the consumption of alcoholic liquor in Washington far exceeds that in the rest of the country is a partial index of political and social conditions. I have often wondered what a modern Amos coming to that capital would think and say.

Actually there is in Washington such a prophet. He does not come from the farm or field, but he has brought to American journalism the stern discipline of his upbringing in a Scottish Presbyterian home.

The discipline is not less stern because it is tempered by a deep sense of humor and a broad humanitarianism that is devoid of cynicism.

The prophet I speak of is James Reston, Washington correspondent of the New York Times, whose articles now appear also in the Boston Herald.

More than any other, as I see it, this newspaperman is speaking to the country in what he calls "the faith, purpose, and values of our society."

planes, airplanes and other means for delivering nuclear weapons in an attack. This plan was first advanced by France.

"If the cold war becomes hot," Khrushchev said, "the first blow will be struck against those countries which play host to U.S. bases."

Soviet Defense Minister Rodion Malinovsky disclosed Monday that Soviet rocket crews have been ordered to fire at any foreign base from which further spy flights are launched over the Soviet Union.

Today Khrushchev said Marshal M. I. Vedelin, commander of Soviet rocket troops, had been given the authority to use nuclear warheads in the rockets.

Westerners here were shocked by this. In the United States only the president has the authority to launch a nuclear attack.

Discussing a detailed new Soviet disarmament proposal made public Thursday night, Khrushchev told a news conference in the Kremlin that abolition of all types of carriers of nuclear weapons would constitute a firm guarantee against surprise attacks, "on the prevention of which there has been so much talk in the United States of late."

Khrushchev in effect said that after disarmament was accomplished, the Soviet Union would join in an "open skies" plan of aerial surveillance such as President assure satisfaction. Mr. Gunter and Mr. Foster stated, "Although the G & P Construction Company, Inc., will build any and all types of buildings and homes, we expect to specialize in the popular FHA approval National Homes. We realize that one of the reasons for our population status is the lack of sufficient modern homes."

When disarmament measures are implemented," he declared, "there will hardly be any objections to flying over the territories of countries with the object of photographing any points from any altitude. For then no one could use the data obtained to the detriment of the security of any state."

Eisenhower, however, recommended international aerial surveillance of all countries to prevent surprise attack before disarmament.

Khrushchev said he had planned to submit his new disarmament plan to the summit conference in Paris but "unfortunately the United States administration by its provocative actions wrecked the summit meeting."

Instead, the proposals were handed Thursday to all ambassadors in Moscow and circulated to all delegations at the United Nations.

In this entire area. It looks like to our company that the National Home with its many desirable features and its acceptance by all financing institutions is the answer to prospective home owners' problems.

Oklahoman Drowns in Black River

BLACK ROCK, Ark. (AP). — Sheriff D. S. Foley said today that Charles Corbett of Oklahoma City apparently drowned in the Black River near here late Wednesday.

Art Reed of Black Rock told the sheriff that his and Corbett's fishing boat caught while in the river. Some spilled gasoline apparently ignited.

Both men jumped into the river but Reed clung to the burning boat and got to shore.

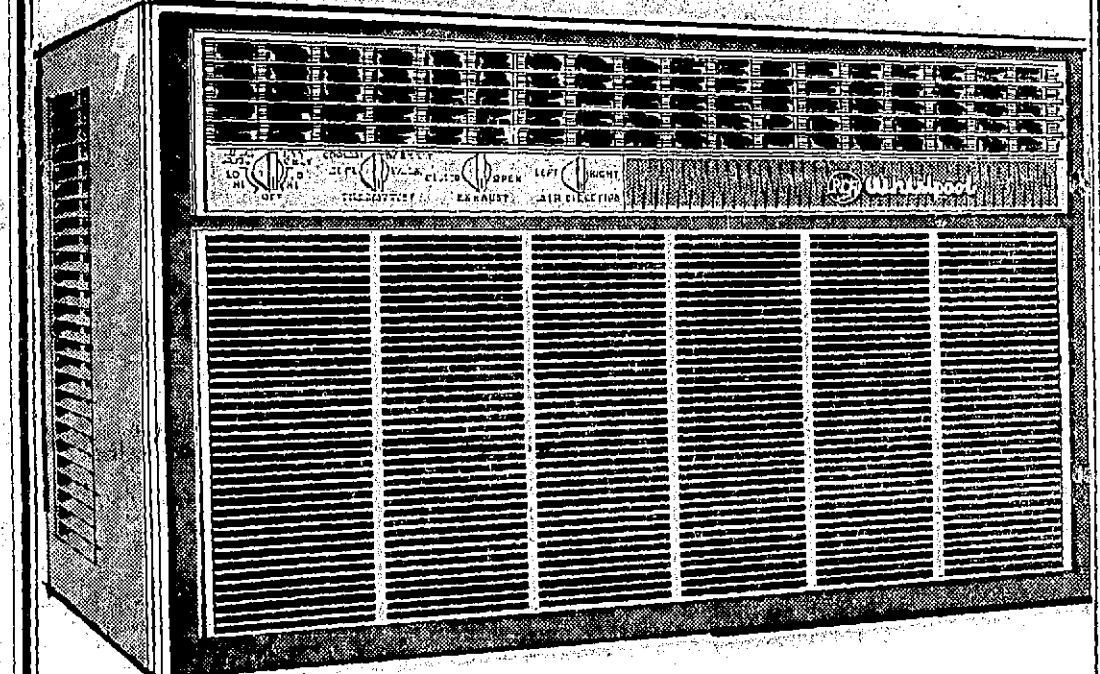

He said that Corbett was treading water in midstream when he last saw his companion.

Corbett's body has not been recovered.

RCA Whirlpool Air Conditioners

Weather Contest

FREE — FREE! JUST REGISTER!
NOTHING TO BUY!

- Contestant must register at Collier Furniture and Appliance Co. Enter the day you think will be the hottest between May 30 and July 2. Also guess the high temperature for that day and the time of day you believe that temperature will be reached. You may register once each week.
- Winner will be determined in the following manner: (1) Hottest day will be determined by official Experiment Station reading. (2) Winner will be determined by the correct guess or nearest guess to the hottest day. This is the sole determining factor unless more than one person guesses the same date. In that event, the tie will be broken in this order:
  - The person guessing nearest to the correct high temperature for that date. If there still remains a tie, it will be broken as follows:
  - The person guessing nearest to the correct time of day when the peak temperature was observed . . . in event of a tie . . . the tie will be broken as follows:
  - The earliest registration according to Collier Furniture and Appliance Co.'s registration book.
- The date you guess must be two (2) days in advance of the day you register.
- The winner will receive absolutely FREE, a One HP RCA Whirlpool Air Conditioner (excluding installation).
- In event the winner has purchased an Air Conditioner from Collier Furniture and Appliance during the period May 30 to July 2, 1960, that person, rather than receiving the prize listed above, will receive full credit on the price of the Air Conditioner purchased, regardless of size or cost.
- Only adults are eligible to enter. Collier Furniture and Appliances will be the sole judge as to the winner and their decision will be final.

Africa Is a Mixture of Old and New

By SAUL PETT

DURBAN, South Africa (AP)—Durban is a big modern city on the Indian Ocean.

It has tall office buildings and electronic calculators and glassy hotels and cars and radios and built sets and smart shops and movies and sophisticated night clubs and stately white women (whose children are being bred for by loving African "nannies") hurrying off to the veranda of Clark's for gin slings and blue-eyed Englishmen and square-faced Afrikaners in crested flazers hurrying off to their "bowls" their tennis, their golf.

Just 30 miles to the south it has Zulu warriors who still form war parties as big as 2,000 and fight and maintain and kill each other with spears, clubs, knives, smuggled guns and evil spirits.

Just six miles to the west it has one of the world's ugliest urban slums.

The contrasts need to be understood in any picture of South Africa's tense racial problems.

South of Durban, I visited the Umhlati reserve, where about 90,000 Zulus live on 200,000 acres. Generally, the natives here work in sugar cane fields; each family being allotted 10 acres by the government. Government officers help with the planting and marketing and the schooling of the young.

The reserve is administered by whites. Punishment for minor theft and simple assault is dealt with by local tribal chiefs. All other crimes are tried before white magistrates.

Fights flare up often, over a girl or a beer or a report that one clan had sent an evil spirit to another. In the last fight, the war parties were summoned by cow horns and marched to the roll of native drums for the attack. In all, 90 huts were burned, five natives were killed and scores slashed.

The Zulu warrior may be relatively uncivilized but he's no fool. He takes his women with him to war. The girls carry the food and the milky native liquid called Kaffir beer.

Those who became Christians and married in church have but one wife. But most are still pagan.

polygamists and recent followers in witchcraft and medicine men. Many Zulus have five wives each. Some men have as many as 45 children.

The Zulus form little family settlements called kraals on the rolling country near the Indian Ocean. They live in round huts, grass huts reinforced by sticks and over the door they hang cow horns to ward off evil spirits. The wives and children share villas. Each husband has his own wife and children.

All wives help in the cooking of food—usually corn meal—and the brewing of beer. But all wives take orders from the first wife. Each wife must first taste the beer or food she has prepared for her husband. A man can't be too careful.

They go to white doctors but to be doubly safe they also get animal fat, herbs, dried bats, empty chicken eggs and a host of other products from medicine men for luck and health. They sacrifice cattle for the dead and to show their appreciation for recovery from an illness or knife wound, they slaughter a white goat for family.

The Zulus believe in "Tokoloshe," a little invisible man who can be sent from kraal to kraal to punish an enemy. Recently government officials found a Zulu who had been hiding in the sugar cane fields for three weeks because he thought "Tokoloshe" was after him.

The native reserves we visited seemed quiet and peaceful. Then

Veterans to Hear Nixon

DETROIT (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon, expected to be the Republican nominee for president, will speak before the annual convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars when it meets here Aug. 21-26.

Louis G. Feldmann of Hazelton, Pa., VFW commander in chief, said the Democratic nominee "is also expected to appear. He said Gen. Douglas MacArthur was being sought as the convention's keynote speaker."

He headed back toward Durban and just west of the city came on the terrifying slum called Calo Mahor.

Here 50,000 urban Zulus live in incredible filth and congestion. The government, shamed to clean it up, build new housing, but it has a long way to go.

Natives live here in piles of metal sheets thrown together to form tiny shacks where 10 or 10 human beings may share a house no bigger than 10 by 16 feet. There are no lights, no plumbing, no pavements.

Conts, chickens, dogs, pigs, cows vie with humans for space in the narrow dirty alleys. The odor of animal, human and decaying vegetable rises in an oppressive cloud. Over it all, the constant noise of human and animal traffic rises in a steady roar and enter-wailing like the cacophony of a restless menagerie.

Actress Turns to New Career

Temple Texas

Some time ago the Daily News of New York carried a column by Kitty Hanson concerning Miss Temple Texas, the daughter of C. O. Temple of Hope. The article, in part, follows:

"One of the most glamorous of PR gals in town is a former actress who is now an 'associate' in Weston Associates, Inc., a public relations firm."

"Temple Texas" ("Sounds like a showgirl, but I never was") considers herself a trainee.

"People said I'd be good in PR because I know everybody in town." She speaks of a leading couturier as a close friend, knows working newspapermen by their names and is often an "item" in the gossip columns.

"When I was in the theatre I didn't care what they printed about me, so long as they spelled my name right," she confesses.

"But now, some of my clients might not like the idea of their press agent getting into the columns."

Tall (six feet), blond and beautiful, Temple wanted to be an actress from the time she was a child in Arkansas. (Daddy wanted me to be a doctor, poor dear.)

Starting as a model in Neiman-Marcus, Dallas, she soon found her way to New York and into and out of a number of Broadway shows — some good, some less than sensational.

She was persuaded to go into public relations only on the promise that "if a good part came along, I could take it." Now she's beginning to enjoy her new career.

its President, Mrs. R. G. Shuffield, on Thursday night, May 19.

After the Creed was read, the members answered the roll call with their easiest meal to prepare. The Secretary then read the minutes of the last meeting which were approved. Mrs. Shuffield was in charge of the business meeting.

A program on "Foods Preservation by Freezing" was given by Mrs. J. G. Prescott, Foods and Nutrition Leader.

Interesting demonstrations on making artificial flowers, mosaic tile and wall plaques were next presented by Mrs. James Walker and Mrs. Hap Brotherton, both of Blevins. Mrs. R. G. Shuffield, who had recently attended a workshop conducted at Hope, then demonstrated to the members how to make pillows and vases.

After the meeting was adjourned, the hostess served delicious punch and homemade cookies to the members present.

Methodists Plan 10 Year Program

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—The Little Rock Methodist Conference was encouraged today to participate in a 10-year church-wide evangelism program.

A report of the conference board of Evangelism noted that the Methodist General Board of Evangelism had designated a "Decade of Dynamic Discipleship — 1960 to 1970."

The report of the conference board was submitted by the Rev. W. D. Golden of Little Rock, chairman, and the Rev. Howard L. Williams of De Witt, conference secretary of evangelism.

Dr. Fred R. Harrison of Hot Springs reported that $12,500 was spent last year for ministerial training, $11,200 of the total going to ministerial students for undergraduate work.

DOROTHY DIX

He Wants A Good Time — She Wants to Stay Home

Dear Dorothy Dix:

When I was very young I got mixed up with the wrong crowd and was put in a girls' home. There I learned to tell the truth. While on probation I got pregnant twice with the same boy. I didn't love him but he was the only friend I had. When our kids were four and five I met another boy whom I did love and who loved me. We got married and he took the kids.

Two months ago I found a girl's name and telephone number in his wallet. I put in a person-to-person call for him at her house that weekend. The girl said she expected him that night. He didn't come home so I called again next morning. She said he was asleep. I called back. He answered. We had a long talk about him and her. He likes to go out on the town and have fun. I don't like anything but to go to church and a movie once in a while. I have only six loves — my kids (we now have five) and my husband. Shall I take the kids and go away? Please help me.

Mixed Up Dear Mixed-Up: Ask your minister to have a heart to heart talk with your husband. For the children's sake, as well as your own, you should remain together. Next time he wants to go out on the town, go with him!

Dear Dorothy Dix: I'm 13 and mature for my age. My parents won't let me go out with a boy 15 who has a good job working at the gas station. My parents criticize him because he can't talk English well. He was brought up in Mexico. I help him to read and write. He's doing good. How can I convince my parents that he is the only guy in the world for me? Don't you think 13 is old enough to go out dates? —In Love

Dear In Love: The real issue of whether or not you should date at 13 is clouded by your poignant longing to help the young Mexican learn to read and write English. They say the teacher learns along with the pupil. Here's hoping you'll learn how to spell. In all fairness to yourself, you shouldn't be dating at 13. Wait till you're an adult mentally as well as physically.

Send a stamped self-addressed envelope for my leaflets "What Age for Dating" and "The Teenage Code." Read "Sex and the Adolescent" by Maxine Davis. If you can't buy a copy, check with the local library.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I have a problem. If a girl likes you and then likes another boy what would you do? Age eight and a half. Your friend, Davy

Dear Davy: Women are funny. Like you men, some play hard to get. Others want a do-or-die approach. Gauge your quarry. You know the lady better than I. Candy and flowers are sure fire.

Send your problem to DOROTHY DIX. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope, and address her in care of this newspaper.

Dodgers Are Showing Signs of Collapse

By ED WILKS

Associated Press Sports Writer

Can the Los Angeles Dodgers, who rocketed from seventh place in the world championship, now be headed for a flop from the top back to seventh? Only one National League club has suffered such a collapse—the 1917 Dodgers, the Old Brooklyn bunch.

The champs, three games behind .500, plummeted to sixth place Thursday night with a 10-9 beating from Chicago's Cubs, now just two games behind Los Angeles.

St. Louis hustled into fifth, winning two in a row on the road for the first time this season with a 4-3 victory over San Francisco. That dropped the second place Giants two games behind idle Pittsburgh.

Milwaukee clung to third place by beating the last place Phillies 9-8.

In the American League, Baltimore retained a 2½ game edge by beating New York 6-5. Second place Cleveland defeated Kansas City 7-6 and Chicago's third place White Sox lost 4-3 at Detroit. Washington moved from eighth to seventh in a switch with Boston, beating the Red Sox 8-3 and 8-7 in 10 innings in a doubleheader.

Every club but the White Sox chipped in on an 18-home run total that tied an AL record for five games set in 1933. And 12 homers in the NL matched the two-league eight-game high of 39 set in 1950.

The Cubs and Dodgers clouted half of the NL's dozen, Frank Thomas belted his ninth with two runs in a five-run first inning against Don Drysdale (4-6), who now has lost five of his last six. Ernie Banks hit his 11th and Bob Will his third, both solo shots.

Don Cardwell (3-4) beat the Dodgers for only the second time in nine career decisions. Home runs by Don Demeter and Charlie Neal chased Cardwell in a five-run sixth and Junior Gilliam hit a two-run homer in the ninth off never Mark Freeman.

The Braves built a 6-1 lead in four innings at Philadelphia, but needed three more in the ninth to win their second in a row. Rush, saving the decision for Warren Spahn (3-2) fanned Cal Neenan and Joe Koppe with the tying run on second after the Phils had scored three in the ninth. Felix Mantilla and Hank Aaron homered for the Braves. Tony Taylor hit one for Philadelphia. Southpaw Taylor (4-1) was the loser.

A tie-breaking home run in the seventh inning by Joe Cunningham, his first, beat the Giants. Southpaw Billy O'Dell, was the loser for a 2-5 record. Larry Jackson (6-5) gave up 11 hits, one Willie McCovey's 10th home run, but won his fifth in a row while leading the Giants a third time this season.

Flag Fever Creeping Into Baltimore

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—Pentagon fever is creeping into this port city like the Chesapeake Bay tide.

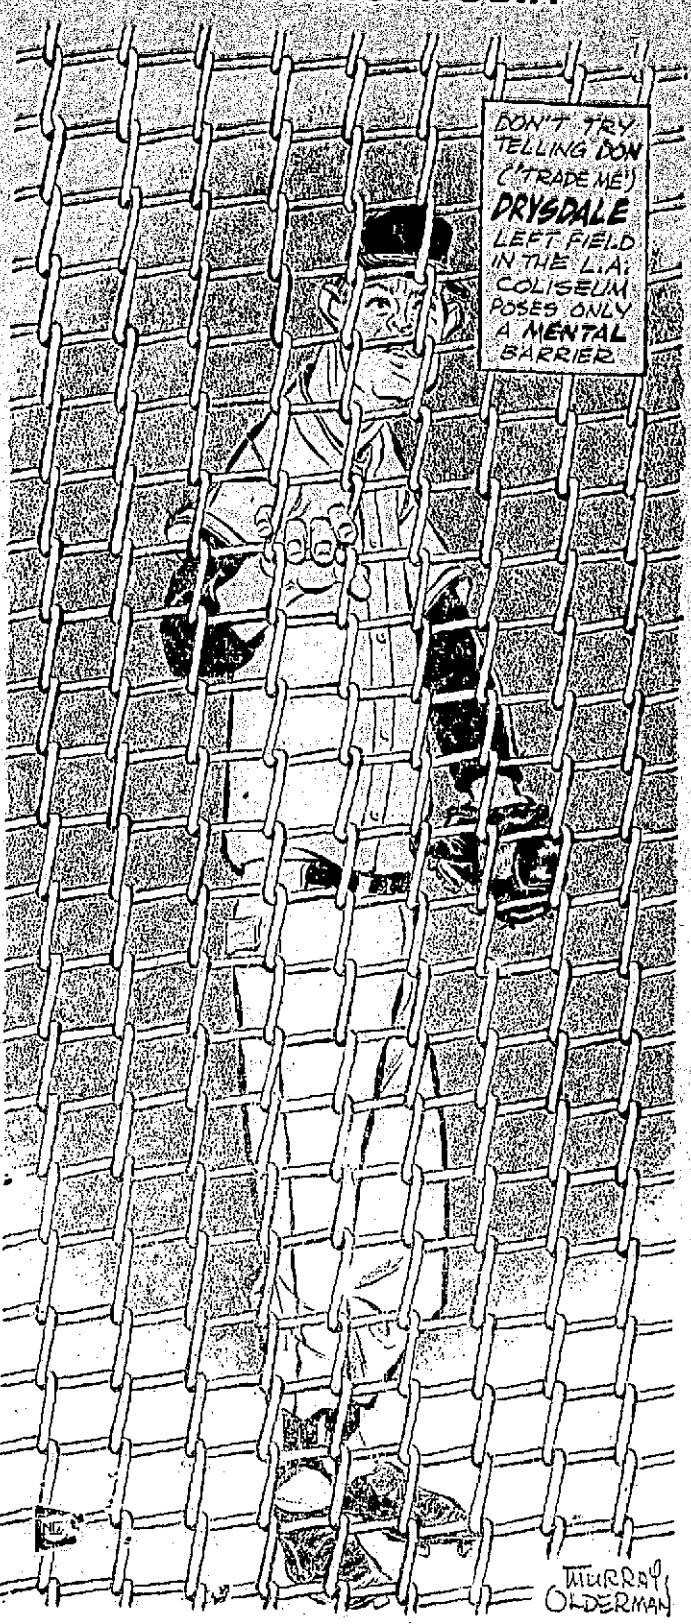

Sure, everybody knows it's only June 3. But a man can still talk about the World Series over his crab cakes and beer.

The streaking Orioles are the talk of the town. A crowd of 42,755, biggest of the season—jammed Memorial Stadium Thursday night and thrilled to a 6-5 victory over New York Yankees. The win kept the Orioles 2½ games in front of Cleveland.

That was the seventh victory in eight games for the Birds, their 11th in the last 13 and their 17th of the last 22.

Once again, it was just the right

17 Game Loser in Minors Now Indians Ace

By ED WILKS

Associated Press Sports Writer

A year ago Dick Stigman was a 17-game loser in the minors. Now he's Cleveland's relief ace, a southpaw stopper who has kept the Indians close to Baltimore in that American League pennant race.

While the Orioles have taken over first place by winning 11 of their last 14 games, Cleveland has clung to second by winning nine of the last 14—and Stigman has saved five of the nine.

He kept the Indians within 2½ games of the Orioles by putting down a four-run, ninth-inning rally at Kansas City Thursday night, saving a 7-6 Cleveland victory over the A's after Baltimore had beaten the New York Yankees 6-5.

Chicago's third place White Sox fell 3½ games back with a 4-3 loss at Detroit. Washington jumped out of the cellar and dropped Boston to eighth by sweeping a doubleheader from the Red Sox, winning the nightcap 8-7 in 10 innings after an 8-3 romp.

Every club but the White Sox chipped in on an 18-home run total that tied a 27-year-old record for five games. Twelve National League homers tied the eight-game major league record of 30 set in 1950.

In the National, St. Louis defeated San Francisco 4-3 and dropped the second place Giants two games behind idle Pittsburgh. Milwaukee defeated Philadelphia 9-8 and the Chicago Cubs plunked Los Angeles to sixth place, 10-6.

Stigman, 24, who had a 9-17 record at San Diego in the Pacific Coast League last season, relieved winner Jim Grant (3-1) with three runs home and two-out in the ninth. Dick Williams' pinch single scored another run, but after pinch-hitter Hank Bauer walked, Stigman got Harry Chitt on a fly, ending the A's winning string at five.

Tito Francona, Woodie Held and Johnny Romano homered for the Indians' last six runs, all of Ray Herbert (2-4). Marv Throneberry hit a two-run homer for the A's. The Orioles scored all their runs on three homers for a three-game sweep over the Yankees and their seventh victory in eight games. Gene Woodling's home run won it, cracking a 5-5 tie in the eighth against Art Ditmar (2-3). Brooks Robinson's one-run home run had tied it 2-2 in the fifth, and Jim Gentile then gave the Birds a 5-4 lead in the sixth with a three-run homer. Chuck Estrada (5-1) won it in relief.

Bill Skowron and Roger Maris drove in all of the Yankees' runs and had six of their 10 hits. Each hammered a homer off starter Hoyt Wilhelm, with Maris keeping the AL lead with his 12th.

Charlie Maxwell drove in three runs for the Tigers. Russ Kemmerer (1-3) was the loser in relief. The Senators wilted five home runs, two by Bill Gardner, who hit a grand slam in the nightcap. Gardner, Jim Lemon and Bob Allison unloaded in the opener as Washington beat the Delco 10-1. Don Lee (1-0) was the winner. A two-out triple by Faye Throneberry beat Frank Sullivan (1-6). Pete Ramos (3-6) was the winner.

Miss McIntire, who started favorite in the field of 82 golfers from Britain, the United States, France, Italy, Australia and Ireland, was the girl with the steady dependable game from tee to green.

So the girl who started playing golf with saved-off clubs at the age of nine and won her first title, the Western Junior, at the age of 17, joined the greats of women's golf.

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Jerome P. Thompson, who as a colonel commanded the 143rd Field Artillery Regiment of the Arkansas National Guard during World War II, has retired as assistant manager of the Little Rock Veterans Administration regional office.

Under Thompson's command, the 143d fought in the Normandy invasion and five European campaigns.

Thompson, 64, joined the VA in 1946. He also saw National Guard service on the Mexican border in 1914 and during World War I.

U. S. Golfer Shrugs Off Pro Talk

By JOHN FARROW

Associated Press Sports Writer

HARLECH, Wales (AP)—Barbara McIntire, holder of both the American and British women's amateur golf titles, today shrugged off all talk about turning professional.

"I plan to continue playing amateur golf and will defend my national amateur at Tulsa in August," the 25-year-old Lake Park, Fla., burnette said shortly after collecting the British trophy.

Miss McIntire defeated Ireland's Curtis Cup star, Philomena Garvey, 4 and 2 in the 3-hole British final Thursday.

She played like a professional to do it. The American girl was eight up with nine to play and turned in precision golf fit to shatter any opponent.

Then the Irish girl lightened her game, fought back in a last gasp finish and won five of the next six holes with the other halved to keep her hopes alive.

But the Florida girl slammed away with par golf and finally wrapped it up on the 34th.

Miss McIntire, who started favorite in the field of 82 golfers from Britain, the United States, France, Italy, Australia and Ireland, was the girl with the steady dependable game from tee to green.

So the girl who started playing golf with saved-off clubs at the age of nine and won her first title, the Western Junior, at the age of 17, joined the greats of women's golf.

Although the fans are talking pennant, the players naturally are cautious.

"I wish it were Oct. 2 right now," says Gentile. "We've got 112 more games to play."

How Much Do You Know About Classified Ads?

It's True!
They Get Results

(Find the Answers Below)

- How much does a 1 column x 3 inch classified ad cost for three days?
- Why is the rate for six days not twice the cost of the same ad for three days?
- Is there any advantage in running a display ad as compared to a word ad?
- Are classified word ads effective?
- Approximately how many people read the Hope Star classified section each day?

ANSWERS

- A 1 column x 3 inch classified ad costs $5.85 for three days. $9.90 for six days.
- You save $1.80 by running the ad six days because the rate is lower on a six day basis.
- Yes, there is an advantage in running a display ad. It is more easily read and catches the reader's attention at once.
- Yes, classified word ads are effective. This is the most used method of advertising apartments and houses for rent. Word ads can be used in almost all types of businesses.
- Approximately 14,000 people read the classified page every day. In a week one ad will have been read 84,000 times.

Miss E. L. Ford and C. B. Smith, County Agents stated that the project was a big success.

HIGH UP—Cassie Collawn did a handstand on the parallel bars, among the numerous other feats of agility in the Military Academy gymnasium at West Point. The Venice, Fla., miss was among the candidates for the United States gymnastic squad in the Olympic Games in Rome, Aug. 25-Sept. 11.

THE STORY: Sheriff McQueen asks Dorcas Lane to persuade Duke Jordan to surrender. Duke is wanted for the shooting of Lark Rigby, Hatcher owner. Dorcas plans to marry Duke.

CHAPTER XVII

Dorcas Lane sat quiet, thinking. Last night she had looked at the situation exactly as Duke had, that a man lay dead and the one who had felled him wore a murderer's brand, considering. She had flung her mind down that channel of thought, and murder had stayed murder, with no consideration of any other possibility. For the first time since Duke had paced the kitchen, pouring out his incoherent story, she caught a glimmer of hope. There was a chance! McQueen had just pointed it out.

"Let's suppose he comes in and stands trial," McQueen went on. "And let's suppose the jury decides the shooting was justified. The two of you can be married in your mother's parlor then. Not hidden out somewhere, ready to jump at the cracking of a twig." She looked at McQueen for a moment.

"All right, Virg. I'll tell him."

She looked at McQueen for a moment. "All right, Virg. I'll tell him."

She looked at McQueen for a moment. "All right, Virg. I'll tell him."

4% Hike to Railway Engineers

CHICAGO (AP)—A six-man arbitration board today awarded a 4 per cent wage increase in two steps to 40,000 engineers on U.S. railroads.

The carriers lost their bid for a wage cut of 15 cents an hour. The arbitration award is expected to set a pattern for settling wage disputes with 750,000 more workers in the operating end of the industry. These include firemen, train men, conductors, brakemen and switchmen, with whom the railroads have been unable to reach agreement.

Today's decision came nearly two months after the board began hearings to decide the engineers' demand for a wage boost and the carriers' request for a pay cut.

The board awarded a 2 per cent pay increase effective July 1 and an additional 2 per cent effective March 1, 1961.

Under the ruling all fringe benefits, in effect under an earlier agreement, remain in force. The cost of living allowance in effect May 1—7 cents—is to be part of the existing rates of pay.

Paddled Kid Climbs Pole 130' High

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Thirteen-year-old Larry Witcher protested a paddling by his grandmother last night by climbing a 130-foot utility tower and refusing to come down for an hour.

Finally he yielded to the pleading of firemen, spectators and the grandmother and descended unharmed from his perch.

Larry stood on a platform in the center of the tower about 100 feet up, level with and about eight feet from a high-voltage line of Arkansas Power & Light Co.

AP&L officials said he was not in immediate danger of electrocution as he would have had to climb out on a crossbar to get involved with the power line.

"They said they were prepared to cut off the power and black out much of North Little Rock if he had gotten too close to the line."

Mrs. Willie Witcher said she gave Larry "two or three licks for being mean to me" after "she broke up a spat between him and his brother, 11-year-old Barry."

"The boy's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Witcher of Los Angeles."

An average railway freight car today costs about $9,500.

Urges Negroes to Have Courage

MEMPHIS (AP)—The president of the Southern Baptist Convention last night urged Negroes to have "courage to get out of the rut."

Dr. Ramsey Pollard, pastor of Bellevue Baptist Church, told the graduating class of Owen College, a Negro institution, that they must not be content.

"Speak sometimes when others tell you to be quiet. The world will respect and honor you," Dr. Pollard said.

Owen graduated 19 students this term. They and their parents and friends punctuated Dr. Pollard's address with "amens" and applause.

Buffalo, N.Y., was built under the name of New Amsterdam. It was destroyed by the British in the War of 1812. It was rebuilt with the name of Buffalo.

START BOATING SEASON WITH EQUIPMENT EXAM

By WM. TAYLOR McKEOWN Editor, Popular Boating (Distributed by Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

A boat inspection is available that can go far to assure a successful season.

Called the United States Coast Guard Auxiliary's courtesy examination, this test is free, has to be voluntarily requested by the boatman, and carries no penalty if the boat does not pass.

Craft which are found to be properly equipped and in good condition receive a windshield decal and the assurance that the Coast Guard will not normally board the boat for routine inspection unless a violation of regulations is apparent.

The pleasure-boat skipper starts with the knowledge that he is well equipped.

Bliss Woodward, new national commodore of the Coast Guard Auxiliary, reports that more than 100,000 boats were given the exam in 1959 and this year's goal is double that.

Here is what the examiner will look for:

Are your ownership and registration papers in order, and your numbers on the bow large enough and properly placed?

Do your navigation lights meet legal requirements for your waters?

How about life vests, jackets or

St. Ollie, Texarkana, Munn's Chapel, Prescott, and Macedonia, Columbus. The Ministerial Alliance of Hope will also participate. The Rev. Ezra Turner will preach the Anniversary sermon.

The Youth Department of Mt. Pleasant C. M. E. Church, Two-mile Branch Community, will have charge of services Sunday, June 5. Rev. William Smith, Director of Christian Education in the First Episcopal District will preach at 11:30 a. m.

The contestant reporting the highest amount of money will be crowned King or Queen of Mt. Pleasant. Rev. A. Morris, Pastor.

Rev. W. M. Martin of Lewisville, Ark., will preach at Mt. Cannon Baptist Church Sunday, June 5, at 2:30 p. m.

AME Ministers Get New Assignment By Bishop O. L. Sherman

Bishop O. L. Sherman, recently returned as presiding bishop of the Twelfth Episcopal District of the A. M. E. Church, (Arkansas and Oklahoma) during the closing session of the 36th General Conference meeting in Los Angeles, Calif., May 4-17 announced the following appointments affecting Ministers in Arkansas and Oklahoma this week. They are as follows:

Dr. Z. Z. Dryver, pastor of Union A. M. E. Church for the past eleven years was transferred to the Central Arkansas Conference and named Presiding Elder of the large Camden District. He will be succeeded at Union by Rev. S. C. Thornton, pastor of Ward A. M. E. Church, Muskogee, Okla. The Rev. E. W. Dawkins, pastor of St. Andrew A. M. E. Church, Little Rock, was transferred to Oklahoma and will succeed Dr. Thornton at Ward Chapel, Muskogee as pastor. Rev. M. A. Brunson, pastor of St. James A. M. E. Church, Thornton, Ark., was named to succeed the Rev. Mr. Dawkins as pastor of St. Andrew A. M. E. Church, Little Rock. The appointments are effective immediately, and each minister will be in his position on Sunday, June 5, to officiate, the bishop said.

Bishop Sherman also announced that the first official meeting of the ministers and laymen of the Twelfth Episcopal District for this new quadrennium will be held June 15, on the campus of Shorter College beginning at 10 a. m. Several hundred ministers and laymen are expected to attend this meeting.

Obituary Notice Funeral services for Leroy Key of Gurdon, Ark., will be held Saturday, June 4, at 2 p. m. at Mt. Carmel Baptist Church, Gurdon. Interment in Gurdon Cemetery with Hicks Funeral Home, Inc., in charge.

Funeral services for the Rev. James Howell Todd of Stephens, Ark., will be held Sunday, June 5, at 2 p. m. in Stephens, Hicks Funeral Home, Inc., in charge.

Broadway Theaters Close Down

By RAY KOHN NEW YORK (AP)—The Broadway stage is blacked out for the first time in 41 years, a victim of a bitter dispute between actors and producers.

In the midtown theatrical district Thursday night, as the 8:30 curtain time came and went, there were no blazing lights on theater marquees, no surging crowds of pedestrians, no swarms of taxicabs jockeying to get their fares to the playhouses.

"There will be absolutely no shows until there is an agreement," said producer Alexander H. Cohen, speaking for the New York League of Theaters.

"Actors equity is on strike," he added. "It looks like a long one to me."

Equity claims it is a lockout, not a strike. The union climaxed its pension-wage battle with producers.

Are they approved types? Do you have enough? Are they in good condition if used in an emergency?

Do you have a whistle, bell and carburetor flame arrestors aboard if required?

Is your fire extinguisher not only of approved type and size, but also where it can be easily reached and in good condition?

If you pass this much of the exam you have the bare minimum of equipment that lets you go afloat legally. But the examiner wants you and your passengers to be safe as well.

Do you carry a paddle or oar aboard? You should if yours is a small powerboat that could be pushed along with one in case of engine trouble.

Is your bailer or bilge pump handy and ready for use? Any boat can have a sudden wave wash aboard.

Do you have a suitable anchor and enough line for it? Have you a distress flare kit stowed away?

If you cook, is the galley stove of the recommended type and properly installed?

Fixed gas tanks? The examiner will check the filler caps to be sure any spilled gas will drain overboard during refueling and not into the bilges. Tanks must be vented. Bilge ventilation has to be good, and carburetor drip pan installed for inboard engines.

How about the general condition of the boat? Are bilges clean and free from oil and grease? Are equipment and accessories in good working condition? Does the boat appear to be sturdy and seaworthy?

If your boat does not pass this test, you can correct the failures and request another exam.

No official report is sent in.

Little Hope for Probe Agreement

By ERNEST B. VACCARO WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators who looked into the administration's handling of the O2 spy plane incident expressed little hope today that they can draft a unanimous report on their investigation.

With few exceptions, bipartisanship dominated the four days of closed-door hearings which ended Thursday.

But such solidarity will meet a more severe test next week when the Foreign Relations Committee meets to consider drafting a report in this presidential election year.

Chairman J. William Fulbright (D-Ark) told newsmen Thursday, "It would be unusual, if not unprecedented, if we got a unanimous report on an incident of this kind."

"Any criticism of past mistakes should not be interpreted as displaying distrust or lack of patriotism," he added. "Sometimes it is more unpatriotic to close our eyes to mistakes."

Before the hearing opened many Republicans had expressed the view that an investigation of any kind would indicate a lack of national unity in the wake of verbal fireworks touched off by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

The Paris summit conference collapsed as Khrushchev angrily denounced American spy plane flights over Soviet territory. One of the O2 planes was downed inside the Soviet Union two weeks before the scheduled opening of the Paris conference.

Testimony presented during the hearing into the ill-fated flight and events leading to the summit breakup was heavily censored. In the portions of testimony released for publication, none of the administration officials who appeared before the committee said mistakes had been made.

The final testimony Thursday came

"Gee, Mom, Dad's pure magic as a pitcher! You should have seen him disappear when Jimmy Miller, his that fly through old man Collins' window!"

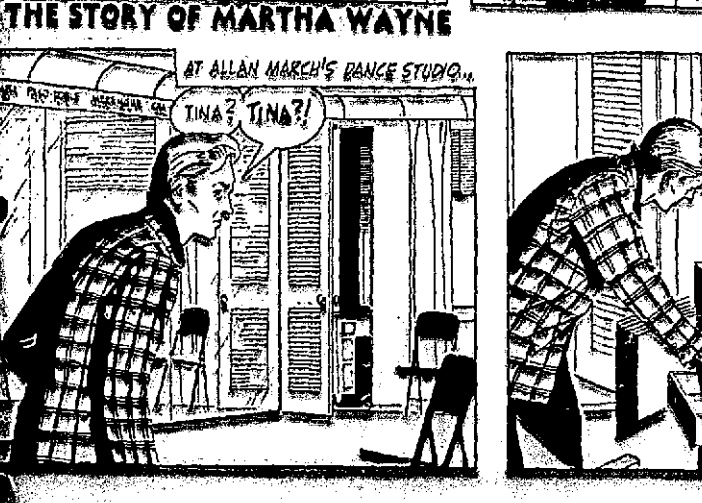

"Here's the place Mom told us to stay away from! I thought we'd never find it!"

"I AM listening to your speech, dear—I'm saving my strength for a big burst of applause!"

"I don't know whether to wear my saddle shoes or my loafers to Edna's party. How formal is it?"

God's Word Says Come

Come let us go into the House of the Lord

ONLY THE BEGINNING

For all those who truly seek wisdom this is "Only The Beginning" time. It's time for rewards but also time for setting the sails to cope with the high winds ahead. Commencement to serious minds can be little less than frightening. Have these young people learned well to do their duty? Are they qualified to accept prosperity? Are they fortified for adversity? Have they learned about God? If they have not learned these things well, then they have learned but little.

Opportunities are in abundance for those who are determined.

Commencement is only the first round on a ladder that reaches to the stars for all who will but apply themselves. Then, young graduates, be of great faith and unlimited perseverance. For He said you have only "to seek and ye shall find, knock and it shall be opened unto you."

You In The Church
The Church In You
— form a combination for good. Every man, woman and child needs the influence of the church. So, come let us go into the house of the Lord, let us support her program of service to humanity, be a faithful worker, a daily bible reader and attend services regularly.
